Grace College

Winona Lake, Indiana

"Our purpose is to glorify God and enjoy Him forever."

This year's book might be termed "a dedication to dedication." Professor Cone held many places in the hearts of the Grace family as professor, father and friend. He inspired many of us to do even the most unpleasant task with zeal through his consistently optimistic view of life. October 22, 1973 was a day not easily forgotten as a time of victory in the Lord. With love and admiration, the 1974 Heritage is dedicated to George E. Cone.

*"... whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God."
I Corinthians 10:31b.*

The staff of Heritage '74 had a purpose. That purpose has been to glorify God through the production of this book. As you look through the book today and in the future, we challenge you to live constantly with this same purpose in every aspect of life.

Look Up and Live

This business of living was meant to be more
Than plodding along each day
With head bowed down and eyes on the ground
While Time ticks the hours away.

God made this world a delightful place
With beauty everywhere—
The grass, the flowers, the trees, the sky,
The tang of clean, fresh air—

A world to be lived in, laughed in, loved,
To be met with joy and zest,
A world with a challenge for each of us
To give it our very best.

This business of living was never meant
As a treadmill sort of thing;
There are rivers to cross, and mountains to climb,
And glorious songs to sing!

Conferences

Dr. Robert D. Culver

Rev. Arthur Konrad

Three Conferences highlighted this year at Grace. In September, Dr. Robert D. Culver, chairman of the division of Systematic Theology at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, Deerfield, Illinois, came to the campus as the speaker for Spiritual Life Week. The Missionary Conference featured Rev. John W. Zielasko, foreign secretary of the Foreign Missionary Society of the Brethren Church, and Rev. George E. Ledden, Jr., the U.S. director of the Far Eastern Gospel Crusade. A variety of workshops were held throughout the week to enable students to achieve further insight in some of the challenges of missionary life. Dr. Merrill C. Tenney of Wheaton College Graduate School presented the Louis S. Bauman Memorial Lectures as part of the 23rd Bible Conference. Also attending as speakers were Rev. Wesley Haller, pastor of the First Brethren Church, Johnstown, Pa., and Dr. Robert Gromacki, chairman of the division of Biblical Education, Cedarville College. Mr. Dewey Melton, a field representative of Grace Schools conducted a workshop on "The Christian and His Money."

Dear Mom and Dad,

I'm homesick already and you've just left. This is a big step for me—and I'm not even sure why I'm here. I'll try to do my best, but everything is unfamiliar and I'm scared. Mom, there are so many kids here—seems like I don't know anyone .

Love,

Penelope

Dear Mom and Dad,

Now that I'm finally clean and dry I thought that I would write and tell you about my exciting day. Today was Freshmen Initiation—what a blessing! Of course they just had to choose the rainiest day to grab us out of bed at 4:00 a.m., put sugar and flour in our hair, and do all these nice things to us. We were prisoners and were each tagged with a number. We had to do all the neat little things that are required at initiations.

Love,

Penelope

Dear Mom and Dad,

Next week is final exams. This is it! My last chance. It's been a good year. I've made a lot of good friends who I'm really gonna miss this summer. I just can't seem to get in gear to study—the weather is so nice and sunny, all I can think of is being outside. But I guess I'd better get busy.

Love,

Penelope

Retreat

Epworth Forest was the scene of the Fall Retreat, a time for fellowship unifying the student body. The activities began with a devotional session by Spiritual Life Conference speaker, Dr. Robert Culver. The juniors defeated the seniors, 15-1, but fell to the faculty, 13-9, in the softball tourney. In the big event of the day, the Beanie Bowl, the freshmen handily defeated the sophomores and immediately expressed their joy by letting the beanies fly. Due to inclement weather the water activities were cancelled, but the time was filled with a pie-eating contest and other games.

Student Activities

This page has been set aside to commemorate various extracurricular activities.

Pre-seminary students and others of like interest in "Full-time Christian Service" cultivate this interest in attendance at Delta Tau Chi meetings.

Students who meet the demanding requirements and show academic achievement comprise Kappa Alpha Epsilon.

Student Education Association provides fellowship for future schoolteachers at both elementary and secondary levels. This media keeps the members abreast of current trends within the teaching profession.

Keeping up with current events of national and international political developments are those members of the Twentieth Century Affairs Club.

Men who have earned letters in intercollegiate sports are eligible for membership in "G" Club. This club promotes athletics and serves as a social outlet for its members.

Chapel

Kenneth Taylor, Alva J. McClain Award

Chapel services took on several new looks this year for the college. Commencing the schedule was the Spiritual Life Conference with guest speaker Dr. Robert Culver. A special Bible, Science Conference followed in October with Dr. Henry Morris, Director of Creation Science Research Center, speaking on "Creationism vs. Evolutionism." In the first mini conference of the fall semester, Dr. Hoyt spoke to the student body concerning prophecy. Students were challenged by four speakers during Home Missions Week in January: Rev. James Poyner, Rev. Robert Salazar, Rev. William Byers, and Dr. Lester Pifer. Dr. Smith chose the charismatic movement as his topic for the second mini conference in March. Other mini conferences featured Dr. Whitcomb and Dr. Kent. Another innovation into the chapel services this year was the first optional chapel series. Students had an opportunity to choose from a list of ten topics the sessions they wished to attend. The G-Club Spiritual Life Conference featured for the third successive year Mr. Rick Hughes. Rick spoke on "Practical Christian Living." Rounding out the special chapels were those involving the Division of Fine Arts. Traditionally, the culmination of the chapel session for the entire year was the awards chapel at which appropriate honors are made to some of the deserving workers who make the campus go. At this time one of the most important awards issued is the Alva J. McClain Award for Excellence in Teaching, this year presented to Kenneth Taylor.

Rick Hughes, G-Club Spiritual Life Conference

Dear Mom and Dad,

Remember how I said I didn't want to return to Grace this year? I'm glad I did. This year seems to be going a lot better—I think I've even managed to get a roommate I can get along with for the entire year.

Seems like half the girls are married and haven't returned. I guess they are happy with earning their MRS. degree. Not me! I'm back for an education now—forget the guys!

Love,

Penelope

Dear Mom and Dad,

I was just wondering if you received a letter yet from the college, maybe something about missing chapel! Don't get too upset, Mom; it's just that I don't have an 8:30 class this semester and sometimes I guess I just sleep a little too late. I did cut a few times to study for tests. Well, anyway, don't get too upset.

Love,

Penelope

Dear Mom and Dad,

Boy, you should have been at the Grace-Huntington game! The last fourteen seconds were enough to give me a heart attack! We had a three-point lead, 72-69. Huntington got a basket. They fouled Dave Staff and he made both baskets, giving us a 74-71 lead. Then Huntington made another basket.

There were only seven seconds left and it looked like we were going to win, but Huntington stole the ball and made another basket. Lucky for us the basket was not counted because of offensive goaltending (or something like that). We won 74-73. I've never seen the Lancers so fired up!

Love,

Penelope

Gymnastics

The Grace College Gymnastics Club provides opportunities for students to develop skills in tumbling, trampoline, horizontal bar, rings, and uneven bars. One of the newest additions to the physical education department, the team began spreading its wings this year by visiting several area schools where the members displayed their various abilities and personal Christian experiences. Highlighting the season was a short trip throughout the Midwest.

Moving out in Lancerette style was the varsity women's basketball team. Sparked by Cathy Garrick who received the Best Offensive Player award and Becky Stewart the unanimous choice for the Best Defensive Player award, the team compiled a near perfect record for their first season in several years. Senior Diane Castro was awarded the honor of being the player displaying the most sportsmanlike conduct. Plans were already being made for a more thorough raking for the area colleges in the '74-'75 season by the feminine version of the "Big Red Machine."

Americans For

"America, Of Thee I Sing" titled the Americans For America Week 1974 version. On Monday, students were intrigued with the address of Wesley G. Pippert, a United Press International reporter chosen to cover the Watergate incident. Indiana Lieutenant Governor Robert Orr was the featured speaker in the Tuesday chapel session. Wednesday's chapel was filled by students chosen as winners in the composition, art, speech, and class decorations contests. A time of prayer for the nation was set aside during the Thursday chapel time. A musical salute was presented for the students on Friday morning. A special performance closed the week as the Kiwanis Travelogue "America, Of Thee I Sing," narrated by Robert Brouwer, was shown on Friday evening. Grace College was awarded the George Washington Honor Medal (Campus Category) by the Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa., for the widely recognized Americans For America Week program held annually by the college.

Concert Choir

On March 29, the Grace College Concert Choir boarded the bus to begin the 1974 Spring Tour. Visits by the choir included churches and schools in Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Washington, D.C. The group has four main functions: to provide a spiritual ministry, to provide on-the-job training, to seek students who may want to enroll at Grace, and to gain financial support for the school. The fellowship among the members has also been a tremendous benefit to the group. As Professor Donald Ogden states, "It's a hothouse for spiritual growth."

Dimensions In Brass

During the spring break, "Dimensions In Brass" made their annual tour, this time to the South. The twenty-four member group presented the Gospel of Christ through music. The twenty-day tour included stops in Ohio, Washington (D.C.), Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and West Virginia. One of the highlights for the group was the opportunity of playing at Disney World. Lodging for the members was provided by church members.

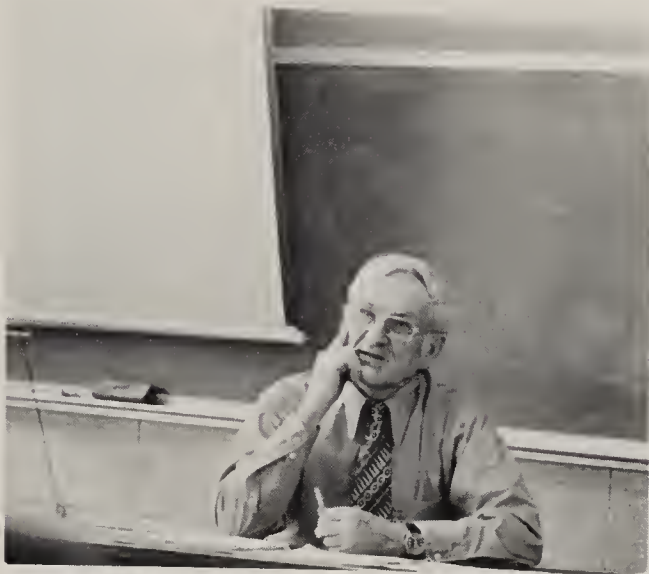

Loren Felabom, Rene Tyson, Sandy Horney, Kim Osborne, Denise Plice, Jerry Franks, Ron Henry, Donna Botteicher, Martha Male, Steve Knierim, Terry Vaughn, Fred Bechtel, Elgin Green, Mike Fiddler, John Fretz, Bill Katip, Randy Kettering, Jeff Rossbach, Scott Clawson, Roland Maust, Doug Hively, Rick Shope, Steve Thom, Loren Hoyt, Steve Stauffer, Craig Bailey, David Flick.

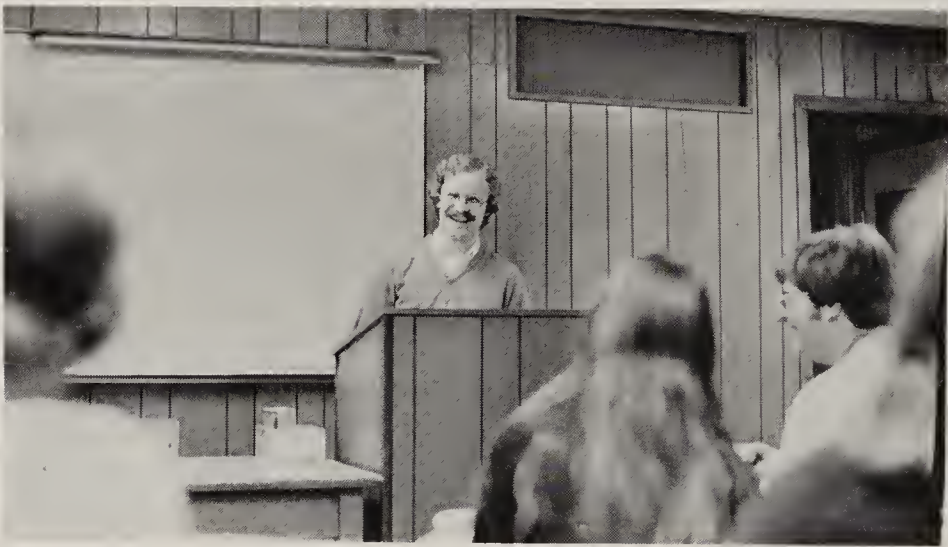

Countless beautiful analogies of the spiritual birth fill the world in the spring of the year . . .

Each analogy eloquently tells man that there is a richer, more triumphant way of life. In the Bible we read, "Thou hast made him a little lower than the angels; Thou hast crowned him with glory and honor."

Summer Service

HIS FOLLOWERS: John Cake, Jan Perryman, Ruth Keffer, Neena Beegle, Bob Foote

Suitcases packed, keys returned and finals finished meant going home for a summer of routine for the majority of the student body. A less numerous group merely switched housing before summer school began. The minority of the student body members set out on one of the most difficult and growth producing twelve weeks of their experience as summer missionaries and on music teams. The "Spirit of Praise" marked the end of their two-year career together as school closed, while "His Followers" commenced a nine-week tour through the East. France was the destination of six eager summer missionaries: Pam Green, Sue Suter, Duane Cory, Dave Griffith, Bruce Robbins and Wayne Hannah, the team leader. Cheryl Holman, Bob Wenger and Elaine Heatwole headed for Stuttgart, Germany, to share a singing ministry and testimonies. These students have dedicated the largest portion of their summer vacation to summer service, but every student had opportunities constantly throughout vacation to share his vibrance and joy in living with those he met and learned to love.

SPIRIT OF PRAISE: John Cake, Ruth Craig, Sue Kiebel, Daryle Emch, Joy Teeter (not shown)

Dear Mom and Dad,

I just can't believe it . . . only one more week! When I look back it seems like I've been at Grace a long time, but yet these past four years seem to have been the shortest. Remember all those times I almost gave up? All the term papers and studying? Now, it all seems worthwhile.

I'm glad I could come to a Christian school that hasn't lost its standards. I'm really afraid of what I'll be doing after graduation, but you've always taught me to trust and have faith so I guess I won't worry about it. Thanks for all your prayers during these years and the way you've encouraged me.

Love,

Penelope

Dear Mom and Dad,

This semester is student teaching. Up until now I've just been observing, but today was my first day to jump right in.

This morning one of the little boys saw my class ring with '74 on it and asked if I was 74 years old. Sometimes the kids are real brats, but when I see them actually learning something I'm teaching, it's a good feeling. I've graded so many papers this past week that I'm starting to make mistakes. I didn't realize how tiring student teaching can be—this is worse than the summer I worked two jobs.

Love,

Penelope

Dear Mom and Dad,

Remember in the last letter I told you that Josh Armor asked me to the Junior-Senior banquet? I wanted to write and tell you about the good time we had. I calmed down some by the time he came, and we seemed to be able to find plenty to talk about on the way to Nappanee. The food was really great. Josh asked if he could take me to church Sunday . . . maybe this is the start of something?

Love,

Penelope

Banquets

An integral part of the social life on campus is the variety of banquets. The Christmas banquet was held this year at the Winona Lake Brethren Church. Red hearts and streamers decorated the Lamp for the Valentine banquet. Students enjoyed a seafood dinner and entertainment provided by Bill Lehman, Bob Parks and the Evangelairs provided special music for the Freshman-Sophomore banquet at the Heritage House. Amish Acres was the setting for the Junior-Senior banquet "Those Were the Days." After a hearty Amish supper, students were entertained by soloist Rich Flegle and his back-up band.

Baseball

Coaches Chet Kammerer and Dave Diehl this year led the baseball team through thick and thin to complete a rebuilding year with several uninitiated players in the circuit. Team members on the 1974 edition included John Barkman, Clarence Davis, Dave Hanson, David Morris, Randy Weimer, Bob Woodward, Steve Nelson, Rudy Glingie, Dan Swagerty, Jeff Cahill, Rick Holder, Steve Miller, and Tom Miles.

Rookie of the Year, Steve Nelson; Batting Champion, All Conference, and Most Valuable Player, Rudy Glingie; Honorary Captain of the Year, John Barkman.

May Day

Sunshine and relaxation prompted students to take a break and participate in the May Day activities. Freshman Nancy Miller reigned over "A Day in the Country." One of the biggest attractions for the musclemen on campus was the old car. Other students took revenge on their friends by having them placed in the W.R.A. pig pen. Included among the special activities were the traditional barrel race, buck buck, and a pie-eating contest. G-Club sponsored a new innovation this year, the first annual Olympiad. Larry Grace, a freshman, outlasted his competitors to carry away the individual win, but the sophomore combination proved themselves to be the strongest pair competing.

A yearbook is many things. Certainly it is a record, but no record can be made without the ingredients of people, events, words, and pictures. The people include the staff, of course, but also the ones who live, move, and act on the campus. These are the ones who create the events that inspire the words and give birth to the pictures. In "doing all for the glory of God," a lofty and worthy goal, the staff has learned that in life the unexpected must be expected and the failures must be compensated for with substitutions that can be useful. "Doing all to the glory of God" isn't a simple platitude that works magic by itself. It takes hard work, long hours, and disappointments. But in the end, there's satisfaction for those who stay with the job and can look with a mixture of joy and relief on the finished product.

Awards Chapel

Prof. Taylor receives McClain Award from Dean Male

Capping one of the finest school years for Grace College, the final Awards Chapel gave recognition to those who excelled in academic, extracurricular, and major sports activities.

Citing outstanding achievements in classroom teaching, student counseling, and Christian example, Dean E. William Male presented the Alva J. McClain Award for Excellence in Teaching to Professor Ken Taylor. Dean Male also presented faculty awards for academic prowess to the highest-ranking student from each of the four college classes: Gary Winey, freshman class, 3.897; Betty Bowman, sophomore class, 4.00; V. L. Vawter, junior class, 3.98; and Diane Castro, senior class, 3.993.

Other honors included the Greatest Contribution to Campus Life Award, granted each year to a fellow and a girl, and received this year by Bill Katip and Deb Cahill; the Christian Service Award, given to David Inks; and the Charlotte Hillegas

Jobson Award for the college girl who best exemplifies the spirit of Christian missions, given to Sue Suter.

The Drama Award went to Randy Maxson for his leading roles and student directing in plays. Chris Allem was granted the Music Department Award, and the Science Award went to Deb Christie. Jim Jenkins was honored for his service as president of the Student Activities Board, and Bill Katip received a gavel as a memento of his leadership as Student Body President.

Christian Service Awards by classes went to freshmen—Mark Witwer and Cheryl Shoumake; sophomores—Alan Frey and Cheryl Patterson; juniors—Rollin Jump and Martha Stoll; and seniors—Bob Foote and Diane Castro. Presented by Professor Stoll, the Evangelical Teacher Training Association awarded certificates to Susan Anders, Patty Balmer, Len Blackstone, Rick Bonar, Rick Brundage, Janet Engelberth,

Dr. Beaver presents the Charlotte Jobson Award for missions to Sue Suter

Sports awards presented were the Intramural Award, given to Ron Bollier, and the Women's Physical Education Award, received by Cathy Garrick. Diane Castro was honored as "Woman of the Year" in both women's intramural and intercollegiate sports. Mrs. Messner presented women's athletics awards in volleyball to Audrey Baker, Deb Baum, Carol Balsbaugh, Judy Ashman, Diane Castro, Denice Plice, Sharon Sanders, Deb Hysmith, Brenda Wilcoxson, Karen Mort, and Sherry Skiles. Women's Softball Awards went to Becky Stewart, Faye Wagner, Cathy Carter, Deb Warden, and Brenda Elder. Recipients of Basketball Awards were Sarah Haney, Judy Rouselow, Joy Rork, Jody Sargen, Becky Stewart, Val Lundgren, Nancy Brenneman, and Deb Sallee. John Boots was accorded a special gift of cufflinks for coaching Women's Softball.

Eight college men who had won three or more letters in varsity sports received the coveted Lancer watches for their achievement in competitive athletics. Buddy Olszewski, Bob Miller, Sandy Horney, Jim Woolman, Mick Craghead, Darrel Johnson, Keith Hardesty, and Craig Turner.

Bob Arenobine presented prizes to the individuals who recruited the most pledge money for the Walk-a-Thon. First prize of $250 went to Scott Firebaugh; second prize of $150 to Dr. Dearborn; and third prize of $100 to Linda Rosner.

Women's Athletics Awards are presented by Mrs. Messner
